COMMITTEE VOTES TAX BILL CHANGES

Minor Changes in Language Made by Senators WIN Clarify House Draft.

Administrative features of the House tax bill defining foreign traders and foreign trade corporations, providing the same treatment for personal service corporations as for other corporations, and fixing the basis for determining gain or loss in accordance with decisions of the Supreme Court were approved yesterday by the Senate Finance committee.

Minor changes were made in the language employed in the House draft, but merely for the purpose of clarifying the intent of these provisions, it was explained. None of the levy sections of the bill was reached. The income surtax question will be first on the list when these levy sections come up for a vote in the Senate committee this week.

Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, announced it was his plan to withhold his bill embodying the sales tax plan and offer it as a substitute for the House bill as amended by the committee. Should the committee reject it—and the general belief seems to be that it will—the Utah senator plans to offer it in the Senate.

The Finance committee will meet again tomorrow to continue its work on the House bill with a view to completing its revision before the end of the week. Six major alterations, as recommended by Secretary Mellon, are before the committee, but the probability is that a number of changes will be made also in administrative features yet to be acted upon.

DISTRICT SUPREME COURT IS FACING HUGE DOCKET

Largest Calendar in Its History Awaits the Opening of the Fall Term.

Despite the transfer of 446 cases to the Municipal Court for trial under the recent act of Congress enlarging the jurisdiction of that tribunal, the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia will face the largest calendar in its history when the fall term convenes October 4. There are still undisposed of 210 appeals from the Municipal Court which had accumulated up to June 1 when the right of appeal from that tribunal to the Supreme Court was abolished. The trial calendar of the law cases originally filed in the Supreme Court contains 880 cases, a total of 1,140 law cases to be heard.

On the equity side of the court business has reached the peak of 450 cases. To this calendar will be added each month as the cases become ready for hearing. The criminal docket is crowded so that both courts will probably be engaged for several months in attempts to reduce the number of prisoners in the jail.

The District Court of Appeals, which will convene for its fall session October 3, also has a record-breaking docket of cases. A total of 207 appeals await hearing and this court is expected to be exceedingly busy, with the largest number of cases since its organization in 1893.

GRAND JURY TO MEET.

About 200 Cases Ready for Its Consideration Tomorrow.

The grand jury will resume its deliberations tomorrow, after a recess of five weeks. About 200 cases await the consideration of the grand jurors. Violations of the Volstead act comprise fully one-third of the matters to be investigated. Six deaths from traffic accidents are to be probed by the grand jurors, as well as about a dozen other homicide cases, ranging from first degree murder to manslaughter. A record business to be presented by United States Attorney Gordon and his assistants to the grand jury consists of holdups, house-breaking, shooting scrapes and the like. The grand jurors are expected to be in daily session for the remainder of their term of office, which expires October 3.

Early trials will follow the return of indictments in cases where the accused are in jail, as United States Attorney Gordon will ask that both criminal branches of the court devote the months of October and November exclusively to criminal cases.

FIND LESS ILLITERACY.

Rhode Island and Vermont Both Report Declines.

According to the 1920 census there were 8,488 illiterate persons, ten years of age and over, in the state of Vermont, unable to write in any language. Of this number, 1,894 were native whites of native parentage, 1,709 of foreign or mixed parentage and 880 of foreign birth. In the total population, ten years of age and over, the percentage of illiteracy was 3.0, a diminution since 1910, when it was 3.7.

Decrease of more than 1 per cent in the number of illiterate persons ten years of age or over in Rhode Island during the ten-year period between 1910 and 1920 was shown by figures of the census bureau. The total of 1,312 persons unable to write in any language in 1920 was 6.5 per cent of the total population, as compared with a percentage of 7.7 in 1910. More than 28,000 of these illiterate persons were of foreign birth, and practically all of the remainder of mixed or foreign parentage or negroes.

JEWELERS TO MEET.

George W. Spier of Washington One of Convention Speakers.

George W. Spier of this city left here for Buffalo last night to attend the annual convention of the American National Retail Jewelers Association, which will start in Buffalo Tuesday and will continue in session for three days.

Mr. Spier will address the convention on the plans of the horological institute, which will be presented to the convention as a recommendation for removing from the markets all products of poor watchmakers. The object, according to officials of the institute, is to raise the standard for watches in the United States. Along this line the institute, it was announced, will bend all its efforts.

WORLD HAS FALLEN INTO MORAL SLUMP, METHODISTS ARE TOLD

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, September 10.—That the world has fallen into a moral slump, that there has been a universal recrudescence of sin, particularly in America, and that physical force rather than the moral law has been given supremacy, were among the declarations made here today by the Rev. Ezra Squier Tippy of Madison, N. J., in an address before the Methodist Ecumenical Conference.

In his address on the subject "Christ the World's Greatest Need" he made an attack on modern civilization generally and declared that ideals have undergone amazing changes and that conceptions of primary principles have been distorted. Truth has been perverted, Christian virtues have lost their divine luster and the sense of sin has been dulled, he declared.

"There is a growing vulgarity and recklessness in dress and behavior," he continued, "and an increasing disregard for the sanctity of the home. The world is groaning under industrial coercion, oppression, antagonism, race riots, ignorance and illiteracy. The world wants to be rid of poverty, ignorance, lust, greed, violence, ill will, social injustice and the warring burden of hatred and war. What help is there for this broken world? Naturally, we look to the church, but we find it full of imposing ceremonies, the clutter of rules, platitudes, venerable traditions, inside organizations of organization—everything except the spirit of the Galilean peasant who came to plant in the garden of the world the seed of the love of the Almighty."

NAVAL OFFICERS RESIGN.
